

Home Visiting in Hawai'i

2025

Supporting families from pregnancy through early childhood with trusted, community-based care.

Home visiting in Hawai'i connects families with trained professionals who provide guidance, resources, and support during pregnancy and early childhood. Through trusted, relationship-based care, home visitors strengthen parenting, promote healthy development, and connect families to the services they need to thrive.

Who Is Served

Families with young children, including those who may benefit from additional support or access to services.

What Home Visitors Do

- Provide parenting support and guidance
- Connect families to health and community services
- Support child development and school readiness

Program Impact

Home visiting in Hawai'i is making a meaningful difference for families and communities. By working with families one-on-one, these programs help improve maternal and child health, support early learning, and build a stronger foundation for long-term success.

Home visitors meet families where they are, building trust that leads to lasting change.

OVERVIEW

In Hawai'i, home visiting:

- Supports healthy pregnancies and child development
- Strengthens parenting skills and confidence

Spotlight on Success

Brandy, a blind participant in our program, received critical support at a pivotal moment. She had just come home from the hospital, recovering from surgery, with her premature newborn daughter. Her home visitor adapted every visit to her needs, reading materials aloud and demonstrating activities so she could safely care for her keiki. That support helped her move forward with independence and confidence.
